CHICKEN RECALLED: Perdue Farms is recalling about 25.7 million pounds of boneless, skinless Perfect Portions chicken breast products because the label does not reveal that they contain an Italian seasoning that includes milk, a known allergen. For information, call 800-575-7325.

SUPRISING RESULTS: A Connecticut company that analyzed the quality of thousands of home loans for its investment banks has agreed to provide evidence to New York state prosecutors that the banks knew the risks posed by subprime mortgages — information that prosecutors believe was not disclosed to investors.

FCC ACTION: The Federal Communications Commission has proposed a 11.1-million five against 5 ABC TV stations over a 2005 broadcast of "NYPD Blue" for "multiple, close-up views" of a woman's "nude buttocks," according to an agency order late Friday.
